FORMER GOV. LIND SENT TO MEXICO, INITIATING POLICY OF MEDIATION

Personal Representative of President Leaves for Troubled Republic Shortly After Acceptance of Ambassador's Resignation—Administration Plans to Offer Good Offices to End Strife in Country.

RECALLED DIPLOMAT FORBIDDEN TO GO TO MEXICO CITY BEFORE OCTOBER 14

Mexico City, Aug. 4.—The committee of Congress that is empowered to act while the national legislators are not in session presented a memorial to President Huerta tonight offering to mediate between all contending parties in Mexico. The President replied that he considered it inadvisable and undignified for the government to treat with revolutionists, and for that reason had decided to carry the war on to the end.

Government officials refuse to comment on the acceptance of Ambassador Wilson's resignation, but this action is understood to end all hope for the recognition of the present government by the United States.

The initiation of President Wilson's policy of mediation with respect to Mexico was announced yesterday afternoon when Secretary of State Bryan made public the fact that former Gov. John Lind of Minnesota had left Washington at 4:45 o'clock for Mexico City, where he will be personal representative of the President and adviser to the American Embassy.

To Mr. Lind the President has entrusted the task of trying to induce the Federal government and the representatives of the rebels temporarily to lay aside their differences pending an election in Mexico, with the understanding that the United States will recognize the government which may thus be brought into being.

While the formal statement given out by Mr. Bryan did not contain any information as to Mr. Lind's instructions, from the information gained from other sources it can be said that the above is the administration's program. Mr. Bryan's statement was as follows:

INTERVIEWS RILE N. A. M. COUNSEL

Views of Senators on Mulhall Case Excites Ire of Attorneys.

WATSON ALSO INDIGNANT
Former Indiana Representative Will Not Appear Before Committee, but Will Appeal to Court.

The Senate lobby committee yesterday listened to three separate and distinct soundings, all within half an hour. Former Representative James E. Watson of Indiana, informed the members of the committee in a letter to Chairman Overman that in view of the bias evidenced by the three majority members in interviews attributed to them by a New York newspaper, he would not take advantage of the committee's invitation to appear and present his side of the case.

Judge Robert H. McCarter, special counsel for the N. A. M., and General Counsel James A. Emery, both voiced strong protests against the action of the committee.

Mr. Watson has spent the best part of three weeks in Washington awaiting an opportunity to be heard. His letter to the committee yesterday served notice that he would take his side of the case to another tribunal, where every rule of court procedure is not violated.

Mr. Watson will institute a suit for criminal libel against Col. Mulhall. He already has been before the District of Columbia grand jury, and that body is expected to report shortly after it reconvenes in September.

As a matter of fact, the Senators who permitted themselves to be interviewed expressed views which it was perfectly apparent they held from their attitude toward Mulhall and other witnesses. Moreover, they merely voiced a conclusion which is most generally expressed by those who have paid any attention to the letters and documents, an opinion which was expressed in these columns last Monday morning, that unless the N. A. M. could attack successfully the authenticity of the letters and documents which Mulhall had presented, it would do them little good in preparing their defense to attack Mulhall personally, or to emphasize an obvious fact that they were "gold-bricked" by Mulhall into believing that he was accomplishing the corruption for which they were paying him.

Nevertheless, members of the committee, when the publication was brought to their attention, tacitly admitted that

HAT OF ANTI-WILSON CANDIDATE IN RING

Frank Katzenbach Comes Out on Democratic Ticket for Jersey Governorship.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 4.—Frank Katzenbach, former Mayor of this city, announced his candidacy today for the nomination of Governor on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Katzenbach was the candidate in 1907, when he was beaten by John Franklin Fort, Republican. He has been identified with the anti-Wilson wing of the party.

His opponent will be Arling Governor Fielder, who is being supported by President Wilson.

Mr. Katzenbach says he is not a candidate of any faction, and his candidacy is left to the decision of all the Democratic voters of the State.

Mr. Lind was born at Kama, Sweden, March 25, 1850. He came to this country with his parents in 1858, and settled at Goodhue, Minn. He was educated in the public schools during the year from 1865 to 1871, and during the following two years taught school in Sibley County, Minn.

ANTI-LOBBY BILL REACHES SENATE

Senator Cummins Will Bring Up Measure at Earliest Opportunity.

MAXIMUM FINE, $10,000

Crimes Not Known to the Statutes Defined and Punishment Provided.

A bill was reported in the Senate yesterday from the Judiciary Committee, intended to reach such cases as that of David Lamar and to put a stop to pernicious lobbying generally. Senator Cummins of Iowa, a member of the lobby committee, is the author of the bill.

Senator Cummins announced that he would call the measure up at the earliest opportunity with the view of having it passed promptly. There is scarcely a doubt that it will be passed at this session in the Senate, and either be adopted by the House in the form in which the Senate passes it, or become the basis of some such legislation.

The bill defines crimes that are not known to the statutes and provides punishment.

The first section makes it an offense against the United States for any person "who, in communicating with another, by telephone or otherwise, represents or falsely represents that he is a member or employee of Congress or an officer of the United States," or who in communicating by telephone, telegraph, mail, or otherwise, with a person in another State "personates another or falsely personates another."

The second section of the bill deals with any person who may falsely state that he has influenced or attempted to influence a member of Congress or other officer of the government on matters before Congress or in connection with the administration of law, "other than law," such as a felony, with a fine not exceeding $10,000 and a prison sentence not exceeding three years.

The third section makes it an offense for any person to try to influence the course of legislation or the administration of the laws in any other way than by "the lawful influence, right, reason, and justice," and the penalty in this case is the same as for violation of the first section.

KILLED WHEN AUTO TURNS

E. O. Crawford, Wealthy Oil Man, Dies in Smashup.

Emmonson, Pa., Aug. 4.—Pinned beneath the steering wheel of his automobile, E. O. Crawford, a wealthy oil operator, was instantly killed when the machine turned turtle near here late today. Mrs. George Lamberton was seriously injured that her death is momentarily expected. And three other women passengers were cut and bruised.

The party was on its way to Warren when the car left the road, three miles from here, and rolled down a steep embankment. Crawford was dead when found.

STRIKE DISORDERS CONTINUE

Governor Expresses Confidence of Settlement Soon.

Calumet, Mich., Aug. 4.—E. F. Ingram, of Detroit, who has been here investigating conditions in the strike of 15,000 copper miners returned to Lansing today to make a report on the strike to Gov. Ferrie. Before he left here he expressed confidence that the strike would end soon.

Story disorders in different parts of the copper region were reported today. At Battle a striker who attempted to force his way through the lines of State troops was bayoneted through the arm. Shots were fired over the heads of the strikers at the Battle mine.

BALKAN PEACE SOON

Treaty Between Roumania and Bulgaria Expected Thursday.

Bucharest, Aug. 4.—It was considered practically certain here today that a treaty of peace between Roumania and Bulgaria will be signed Thursday. The peace envoys have made good progress and it is likely that this week will see an end of hostilities in the Balkans.

Constantinople, Aug. 4.—Turkey intends to hold Adrianople at any price. This was made plain today by Minister of the Interior Talaat Bey, who declared that the entire Ottoman army would be sacrificed if necessary to hold the captured city.

VICE SCATTERED IN QUAKER CITY

Quarantine Drives Unfortunate Women Into Residential Sections.

Philadelphia, Aug. 4.—Vice, until recently segregated in the so-called "Tenderloin," is now scattered to the four corners of this city. Denizens of the underworld, who formerly kept well within the convenient shadows of the red light district, are walking the principal avenues of travel, openly and brazenly soliciting trade. Disreputable houses have been transplanted to quiet residential sections.

Scores of law-abiding citizens, aroused by indignities which they have suffered, insist these facts. Blame for the condition of affairs is attributed to the vice quarantine established by the city administration, led by Director Porter, in a conscientious effort to stamp out the evil of legalized vice. It is claimed the fugitive women from the Tenderloin are settling in every part of the city.

Chestnut, Walnut, and Market Streets, from river to river, are favorite haunts of the women. Fifty-second and Sixty-third Streets are parade centers. On South Broad Street, not only do women and girls approach men on the street, but men on windows and balconies passersby to enter.

Residents of Germantown Avenue, Ridge Avenue, Kensington and Frankford Avenue, say similar conditions exist in these sections. Scores of women who a year ago lounged in police-protected homes are driven to the street by necessity.

Police doing duty in the Tenderloin admit the condition of affairs. They assert the vice quarantine is a failure. While one house is being watched, others are opening up nearby.

Homes that were formerly the residence of famous old Philadelphia families are now debauched by disgraceful revels.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—It is announced that the government contemplates the establishment of a cruiser squadron for the protection of German interests abroad.

Special significance is attached to this announcement following as it does the announcement of the establishment of a naval station at Bermuda by Great Britain.

LIST OF LOST STONES

Value of Missing Jewels Now Placed at Trifle Over $60,000 Instead of $80,000.

New York, Aug. 4.—The efforts to find the missing Hanan jewels were increased today, and a member of a socially prominent New York family now is said to have been in the mysterious automobile seen at Narragansett Pier on the night the jewels disappeared.

A complete list of the missing jewels, which has never been published before, was obtained today. Instead of the total value being $80,000, as it was at first stated, the gems are now said to be worth a trifle over $60,000. Here is the list: Platinum watch, square shaped, surrounded with diamonds, monogram "E. R. H." black ribbon bow-knot breast pin, outlined with diamonds; pair earrings to match breast pin; pair large sapphires, surrounded by wreath of diamonds; sapphire pendant, star shaped, surrounded by diamonds; large diamond mounted on top; sapphire brooch, surrounded by wreath of diamonds; coral brooch; large solitaire ring, half inch square setting, set in black enamel; round moonstone, inch across, surrounded by two rows of diamonds; rope of pearls, quarter inch, containing between 175 and 185 pearls, with black diamonds set in clasp, surrounded by smaller diamonds; pearl necklace, with Indian seed, a red seed every two and one-half inches between the pearls; diamond horseshoe pin, quite large; diamond faced watch, attached to diamond bow-knot; seal ring, with coat of arms, initial "H."

Two Separate Robberies.

This list, according to detectives, comprises but a small part of the collection owned by Mrs. Hanan.

Another important development was the statement of detectives that the Rumsey robbery and the disappearance of the Hanan gems had no connection. It was simply a coincidence they say, that the two affairs came so close together.

Still another development was a rumor that the Rumsey jewels had been discovered in Denver. Mr. Teshoff, superintendent of the Harriman estate, said that he had received no information from Denver or anywhere else indicating that the stolen jewels had been recovered.

SOLE Victim of Aviation.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—While describing "Agua rights" in his aeroplane above the Johannistal Aerodrome today, Hier Broke, a young aviation pilot, fell to his death. The motor stopped in midair, and in trying to vault to earth Hier broke struck a pole and the fuel tank exploded. Broke was the sole victim of aviation.

Lung Chi-Kuang, near Shao-Hing on the West River, are in retreat, according to advices received here today. All the rebel forces in the province of Kwangtung have been repulsed. MINISTER GETS REAL PEEVED

The Rt. Rev. George Chalmers Richmond Attacks Modern Religion.

GIVES FOUR REMEDIES

One of Them Is that Rich Men Be Driven from Sanctuary—Defends Socialism.

New York, Aug. 4.—The Right Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, rector of St. John's Church, the fashionable sanctuary of Philadelphia, today hurled further javelins at the priests of his denomination. Following up his attack of Sunday, when from his pulpit he declared several bishops to be controlled by Wall Street, he advocated the immediate retirement of Dr. William D. Walker, of Buffalo, Bishop of Western New York, and the Right Rev. John Scarborough, Bishop of New Jersey, declaring "that he stood against progress, have lost their spiritual and moral usefulness, and are now in their dotage."

He declared his determination to stand firm despite any attack that might be made on him, and asserted he would preach a more startling sermon next Sunday, at which he would give names and dates and expose hidden facts in support of his contentions.

"I am a radical theologian and progressive churchman," he asserted. "I am the pastor of St. John's, elected for life, and no one can touch me. They cannot remove me. They can simply fear the truth becoming known as it shall be known."

Has More to Say.

The text of next Sunday's sermon is to be "The Enemies of the Spiritual Life, or the Degeneracy Seen Today in the Episcopal Church."

At his apartment in the Hotel McAlpin today, Dr. Richmond made further pointed accusations against Bishop Greer, Dr. Manning, of Trinity, and Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, rector of the Church of the Ascension, commonly known as August Belmont's church. He used the terms as "puppets of the faith," "social riff-raff," and "sinners" in his characterizations of officers high in the church.

Following are points which Dr. Richmond said he will elaborate upon next Sunday from his Philadelphia pulpit: "I shall tell how Walker thinks the only church in the world is the Episcopal Church, even while he talks church unity. I shall tell of his dislike for the Baptist and Methodist churches which openly he espouses."

Who Stole the Jewels.

"I shall tell of the weaknesses of our church at the fashionable summer resorts; also regarding the recent jewel robbery at Narragansett Pier of the Rumsey and Cannon families whom I know and who have invited me to know and who have invited me to know not very much about those robberies so much as I wonder how these very rich people stole the jewels themselves. Who stole the money? Suppose the common people to buy them? It does not trouble me an iota if all the jewels owned by this crowd of social riff-raff were stolen."

"I shall tell of a generation against civic ideals. He cannot move the Wall Street millionaires, who compose his vestry, and so he talks of free press, church unity, so-called. Manning would not allow a Presbyterian, Baptist, or Methodist of other denominations to preach in his pulpit, yet he talks of church unity."

"I shall tell how when Gen. Hughes was crusading against gambling, Dr. John Peter and Cannon wanted to go to Albany and helped the Governor, but how when they invited Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, rector of August Belmont's Church of the Ascension, he replied, 'Why, gentlemen, here are things I don't dare do. Don't you know August Belmont is the most powerful member of my vestry and the church could not exist without him?'"

"I shall tell how the millionaires control, boss, and regulate the church, and

SEAT IN HOUSE GIVEN DISTRICT UNDER NEW BILL

Pointdexter Introduces Measure Which Also Provides Votes for Women.

ELECTION NEXT YEAR

Long Campaign by District Association and The Washington Herald May End Successfully.

The Senate District Committee has under consideration a bill, introduced by Senator Miles Pointdexter of Washington, providing for the election by direct primaries of a delegate in Congress from the District of Columbia, and incidentally calling for women suffrage in the District.

It is probable that the bill will not be considered at the extra session, but will be voted at the beginning of the next session of Congress, in December. It is framed so that if passed, residents of the District will vote for their delegate at the Congressional election next year.

Bill May Pass.

The District Delegate Association and The Washington Herald have for more than two years made a fight for the introduction of such a bill. Sentiment expressed privately by members of Congress and by prominent officials of the District government, indicated, it was said last night, that there will be practically no opposition to the bill's passage.

A Presidential preference is provided for by the bill, which is modeled along the lines of the Alaskan delegate law. It is regarded as much more comprehensive. The bill also provides for the election of laws providing for the election of other District officials. The present form of government in the District is in no way changed. The District simply has a Congressional delegate. It is provided in the bill that the delegate chosen at each election shall hold his office for the same term as the members of the House.

That the Commissioners shall divide the District into voting precincts, each containing a voting population of approximately 500, and also shall provide polling places.

That all nominations shall be by primary election except in the case of minority parties polling less than 10 per cent of the vote in the last preceding election. When a vacancy shall be caused by declaration of death, the nomination may be filed by the party committee.

The secretary of the Commission shall be regarded as registrar officer. The words he, his or him shall include female as well as male.

That all candidates for delegates in Congress from the District shall be nominated at a direct primary, and the primary election for nominating candidates shall be held on the second Tuesday of September, 1914, and biennially thereafter, except that by death, resignation or the United States is to be elected, and then on the second Tuesday of April.

Candidate Fee Prescribed.

The declaration of candidacy shall be accompanied by a fee equal to 1 per cent of the annual salary of the Delegate in Congress.

The Progressive, Democratic, and Republican parties shall be entitled to separate primary election ballots at the first election.

When more than five parties are represented, the candidates for each party shall be named. When no candidate, in this case, receives more than 10 per cent of the total vote, second choice votes shall be added and the candidate declared elected by the plurality vote.

Voters of each party may name a candidate for precinct committee for his party. The person receiving the most votes shall be the precinct committee man of his party until a successor is elected.

That all delegates from the District to national conventions shall be elected at a primary election.

Any person who shall falsely make, or make oath to, or fraudulently deface or destroy any primary or final election

113TH BLACK HAND BOMB DEMOLISHES TWO STORES

Curing of Italians' Parrots Leads Police to Believe Many People Are Hurt.

New York, Aug. 4.—The 113th bomb exploded since January 1 by Black Hand extremists was set off at 224 Avenue early today. It hurled five persons from bed, wrecked two stores, sent two score Italians scurrying to the street in a fright, and tore the tail feathers from two parrots.

While the parrots lost their tails they retained their voices. Their voluble propensity—in Italian and unintelligible to the policeman—caused the impression that the bomb was set off by a parrot. Two ambulance calls were sent in before the origin of the racket in the wrecked store was discovered.

There are two families on each of the five floors, and all of them rushed to the street in bare feet and night attire. Rescued quitted them.

Two parrots who were hopping around loose in the rear of the grocery store were by the plaster that fell and their feathers gaudy.
